COLORADO TRAINS HELD UP BY ANIMALS IN A TUNNEL

SOUTH AMERICAN JAGUAR AND A POLAR BEAR, THROWN FROM CIRCUS TRAIN, MAKE THINGS LIVELY FOR TRAVELERS ON COLORADO MIDLAND.

By Associated Press. Colorado Springs, Colo., July 17.—More than 2,000 people and four passenger trains of the Colorado Midland railroad have been held at tunnel No. 6, two miles west of Manitou, by a fierce South American jaguar. Before he was captured, the animal clawed Joseph Bennett, of this city, cutting a severe gash across the right leg. Miss Delmont, a passenger on one of the trains, became frightened, and in endeavoring to scale a high cliff, fell a distance of twenty feet, breaking her left leg. The jaguar and a polar bear occupied two compartments in a large cage that was loaded upon a flat car of the train belonging to a circus. The cage was too high to enter the mouth of the tunnel and as the cage struck the roof of the tunnel it was thrown off. The keeper threw on the brakes, stopping the train. He threw rocks at the bear and fired blank cartridges at the jaguar, to keep them from escaping. The animal crawled under the car and during the efforts to drive it into another cage, Bennett received his injuries. The animal was finally driven into a small cage, but before the door could be closed, the train started and the jaguar again leaped for liberty. It dashed through the tunnel, but upon emerging at the other end, found itself in a narrow cut. After several efforts the animal was again captured and placed in his cage.

Forty-Horse-Power Automobile Almost Completely Demolished.

ACCIDENT THE RESULT OF RACE DOWN HILL WITH STREET CAR. OCCUPANTS OF CAR THROWN TO THE FLOOR AND CONDUCTOR BADLY INJURED.

By Associated Press. New York, July 17.—Two young women were probably fatally hurt and their two male companions had a remarkable escape from injury to-day, when the automobile of Frederick Marshall, which had been borrowed by Mr. Marshall's chauffeur, was caught between an elevated pillar and a street car at Seventy-ninth street and Third avenue. The automobile was reduced almost to scrap iron. The forty-horse-power machine attempted to race in front of a surface car bound down hill and as it dodged between the elevated pillars and whirled on to the track, it was pinched between the car and a pillar. The rear half of the automobile, in which were seated Miss Cora Michaels and Miss Helen Donnschauer, two of the chauffeur's friends, was demolished and the girls were so tangled in the wreckage of car and automobile that it took half an hour to extricate them. A male companion of the chauffeur was thrown out on the sidewalk, but the chauffeur was uninjured. Nearly all of the occupants of the street car were thrown to the floor and the conductor was so severely injured that he was taken to the hospital. Frederick Marshall, owner of the machine, was not in the city at the time of the accident.

Claims His Course in Affair at State Asylum is Approved By Officials.

BRANDS IT MUTINY

Superintendent Whitner Makes Official Report on Trouble.

COULD NOT RELEGATE MANAGEMENT OF INSTITUTION TO ATTENDANTS AND THEREFORE IGNORED PETITION AND PREPARED FOR THE EMERGENCY.

The Journal has received the following statement from D. W. C. Yarbrough with the request that it be published:

Mr. Yarbrough's Statement. Chattahoochee, Fla., July 15, 1905. Editor Pensacola Journal: I note considerable space in your news columns has been devoted to alleged reports of the recent "strike" at this hospital and as my name is prominently mentioned therein, I beg you to publish this card. I do not care to enter into a discussion of the affair other than to mention that the so-called strike or in reality, mutiny, has not in any way interfered with the proper conduct of the institution. As I have many acquaintances, and I trust also many friends, in Pensacola, the simple statement that my course in the affair has met the approval of those entrusted with the management of this institution, will be sufficient refutation of the charge that that course has been in any way reprehensible. Insistence upon a proper discharge of duty and regard for obligations assumed has often proven unpopular and will continue to prove so, especially in the conduct of public institutions. Regardless of this, however, I shall continue to perform my duties here as my judgment and instructions dictate. Trusting that you will give this card the same prominence as that accorded the sensational news reports, Respectfully, D. W. C. YARBROUGH.

Superintendent Whitner's Report. Superintendent B. F. Whitner has made the following report to the board of state institutions: Chattahoochee, Fla., July 15, 1905. Honorable Board of Commissioners of State Institutions, Tallahassee, Florida.

Gentlemen: I respectfully submit the following statement as to the recent strike of the attendants here: On the morning of July 11th, I was handed a petition by one of the attendants (male) after asking a private interview. I told him that was not the proper way to obtain what they wanted and explained in a kind manner that I could not consider the request with the threat of resignation if I did not comply, that they had better erase that clause in the petition, that it was too grave a matter to be answered at once. The petition stated that they would resign on the 12th in a body. The paper was returned, and in the course of the day was again presented by another male attendant with no change except that the date of the threatened resignation, which was extended to the 13th. It is of course evident to the board that I could not relegate the management of the institution to the attendants, and after consulting with the other members of the hospital staff, I determined to prepare for the emergency and take no further notice of the petition, which was in reality a mutiny. I should simply be at the mercy of the attendants if I should adopt any other course. The strikers no doubt expected all the attendants and employees to join them, but in this they were disappointed, as four female and seven male attendants refused to go out, and only one of the outside employees, the baker, joined them. The electrician, steward, and etc., were faithful and profuse in their offers for
